WAR!

This Time it is in San Domingo.

A Defeated Candidate for President Attacks His Successful Opponent in Open Battle.

The Cutting Affair Likely to be Settled—Governor Ireland Talks Sensibly.

A REVOLUTION.

San Domingo is the Scene of a Bloody War.

Boston, Aug. 13.—A letter from San Domingo dated July 28, says: "A presidential election took place on the 26th of June, General Ulysies Hereaux being elected by a large majority. General Massee, the defeated candidate, left for Samana two days after the election, raised an army of three thousand men, attacked Santiago and was defeated by the government forces. General Hereaux, the president-elect, left here today, leading five thousand men to reinforce General Superior at Santiago. General Scaraman will join Hereaux, making his army 12,000 men. This is the strongest revolution that has started in San Domingo for years, but will be of short life, as General Hereaux is a brave and determined man, and understands the mode of fighting in this country."

THE MEXICAN TROUBLES.

It Will Probably be Settled by Arbitration.

New York, Aug. 13.—A special from Washington says that in yesterday's consideration by the cabinet of Cutting's case, a proposition from the Mexican government was received that if the state department will send to the City of Mexico an able lawyer as a special envoy to confer with the attorney-general of Mexico, as to the proper interpretation of the laws under which Cutting is held, they believe an amicable solution can be arrived at. The cabinet unanimously agreed to accept the proposition. This government is not bound by the report that the representative may make, but upon this report there can be established additional diplomatic procedure. Pending this agreement neither government will take action. The special envoy will not be a person who is in any way connected with the service of the government.

GOVERNOR IRLAND'S LETTER.

The Herald has the following dispatch from Governor Ireland to-day: "You ask for my views in the Cutting case. Cutting has never applied to me. It may be conceded, if necessary, that Cutting has been legally convicted under the Mexican law, but the people and government of the United States can never submit to one rule of law. Every editor and every other person who writes or prints matter in the United States obnoxious to the views of the Mexican courts can at any time when found in Mexico be arrested and punished as Cutting has been. The person of Cutting is not involved and surely our government has not made an idle demand. No one wants war and I trust no one wants peace at the expense of national honor and the rights of an American citizen. Outrages have gone far enough and have been numerous enough."

Washington, Aug. 13.—It is asserted at the state department that there are no fresh developments in the Cutting case and that the attitude of this government has not changed in any respect.

Folding Paddles for Steamboats.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—John Dougherty, of Mt. Union, Pa., has given orders for the plates for building folding paddles, to attach to a light draught steamboat, with which he expects to make the trip from Pittsburg to New Orleans and return in a week.

A Big Estate.

Milwaukee, Aug. 13.—Suit was commenced here yesterday to have an accounting made of the assets left by the late Charles Durkee, an ex-governor of Utah. The estate is valued at $500,000, and the petitioners claim the executors converted it to different uses than those stipulated in the will.

Business Failures.

The business failures of the last seven days are, United States, 141; Canada, 16; total, 157.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Called for the "Sentinel" Readers.

The republicans of Wells county will present the name of J. J. Todd, as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The brewery, beer garden and hotel at Maxinkuckee Lake burned last week, but they will be rebuilt on a larger scale.

D. E. Finley, late chief train dispatcher of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad, was drowned yesterday while bathing in Bel river, at Worthington, Ind.

The first of the state elections to come hereafter will be that of Vermont, on September 7. Maine will follow on September 13. All of the rest of the states will vote on November 2.

From present indications the corn crop in Whitley county this year will prove a great failure, many fields will not yield a bushel to the acre, while but very few will go over half a crop. In some parts of the county there has been no rain of any consequence for two months.

The recently destroyed soldiers' orphan's home at Knightstown will be rebuilt at once. The trustees met, and as the insurance money is in their name it is held no legislative action is needed. The $25,000 of insurance added to the walls already standing will go as far as can be gone until the legislature is in session to make further appropriations.

Between four and five o'clock yesterday morning, during the thunder storm, the house of Jacob Shideler, of Lancaster township, Huntington county, was struck with lightning and quite badly wrecked. The fluid entered the roof, tore off chimneys, and going to the first floor, tore a large hole therein, and then threw the board underpinning around the yard in every direction. None of the family were injured.

Sixty-three of the sixty-six switchmen who inaugurated the strike on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad at Chicago, last June, were paid a full month's wages last Saturday. Those who had engaged in the strike of April received $70, the others $65. The payment of this money is the fulfillment of a promise made to the men by the switchmen's union of the United States to pay them wages if they would not call out the switchmen of the other Chicago roads. The men are contented, and are still hopeful of winning, and they mean to return to work in a body. Only two of the strikers have applied for work on other roads. They were refused employment. The Lake Shore road is guarded for thirty miles out of the city. No switching is done at night, and the strikers point to this as a proof of their declaration that the road is not handling nearly all of the freight that comes to it.

Ligonier Banner: "Miss Belle Levy returned to her home in Fort Wayne Tuesday, after several days visit with the Loesser family."

P. F. Bartlett, assistant commercial agent of the Wabash road, has resigned and Wm. F. Spratt, of Toledo, succeeds him.

Miss Rose Gallagher, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Kate Gallagher, of Terre Haute, are visiting their sister, Miss Emma G., of McGill street, Indianapolis.

Budd V. Sweringen will soon leave our city for Philadelphia where he will place himself for the next nine months under the instruction of the oldest medical college in the country, the University of Pennsylvania. The approaching term will be its 122d. Being an institution endowed by the state, it is perfectly independent, and therefore maintains a higher standard of education and requires a higher grade of qualifications of its alumni than any medical college in America. Mr. Sweringen proposes to take his second and third courses in this university and also a private course in pathological microscopy under the famous pathologist and microscopist, Professor Formad, of Philadelphia, who is connected with the above institution.

A telegram to the Indianapolis Sentinel says the gentleman nominated at Kendallville yesterday: "Henry C. Stanley, a Noble county farmer, and an ex-member of the legislature, for congress. His age is sixty-eight, and his accessible means are placed at $50,000. Stanley did not attend the convention, but stood about the streets during the proceedings. He accepted the nomination only when it was promised by some of the younger kippers that they would make the campaign for him if he would only show himself once. The convention was a very tame affair, without much spirit and was sparsely attended."

Avilla correspondent: "P. A. Randall and family, of Fort Wayne, were visiting here last Sunday."

Bluffton Times: "Miss Lillian Tildon, of Fort Wayne, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. Humphrey during the past week, returned home Monday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Humphrey."

Bluffton Chronicle: "Miss Tottie Bulger, of Fort Wayne, is in the city visiting her friends."

BOB DUNN.

He is Shot for a Series of Burglaries at St. Joe—His Career in Fort Wayne.

In the past week there have been a series of burglaries at St. Joe, a village north of Fort Wayne, in DeKalb county. Wednesday night the store of Mr. Barney was robbed and a posse took after the robbers. Mr. Boyle, of DeKalb county, came on to one of the thieves and opened fire upon him. The stranger fell mortally wounded and was taken back to St. Joe, where he is this he has probably breathed his last. The man's name is Robert Dunn, and his home is in Fort Wayne. He has worked for Dr. G. T. Barnum, the livery man, and at the street-car barn. His wife died some time ago and in this connection he is remembered. He alleged her death resulted from wine furnished her by H. W. Mordhurst, the druggist, and he sued that gentleman for damages. The jury gave him nothing, and then Dunn went back to his old exploits. He had a Rome City meal ticket on his person and burglar's tools and material. The officers are now after his partner who is believed to be in this neighborhood.

THE I. P. A.

What the Attractions Cost and The Outlook.

The Island Park Assembly at Rome City, of which Mr. Fred Keil is an officer, made money this summer and the promoters will make a greater effort to please next season.

Already Sam Jones and Sam Small have been engaged for two days. John A. Logan will be engaged for G. A. R. day next year. Henry Ward Beecher will be here if alive, on some day of the next session. Possibly, it will be of interest to the many readers of THE SENTINEL to know who and the prices paid for the talent represented on the platform of I. P. A., during the session just closed. They paid as follows:

Rev. Sam Jones	$200
Maj. Gen. Howard, U. S. A.	140
Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage	180
Chaplain C. C. McCabe	150
Prof. C. C. Case, musical director	300
Rev. A. A. Willits, D. D.	100
Rev. F. S. Benson, D. D.	100
Dean A. A. Wright, teacher	200
Prof. Roger's brass band	600
Rev. N. B. C. Love, teacher	150
Wallace Bruce	120
Rev. John DeWitt Miller	100
Rev. Chas. F. Deems, D. D.	100
Rev. Washington Gladden, D. D.	100
Peter M. Von Finklestein	100
Leon H. Vincent	100
Miss Princess Clark, soprano soloist	50
Mrs. Kittie L. Houghton, soprano soloist	50
Mrs. Nichols, president W. C. T. U.	50
and others aggregating for this session's program	$4,000.

The Kendallville Convention.

There were a few clever gentlemen at the Kendallville convention yesterday, but the people had no voice in the affair. The persons prominent were either disappointed or defeated candidates from northern counties. O. L. Ballou was there. He was offered a just representation in the Auburn convention, but did not take it. The state convention rejected him and his followers altogether last Wednesday and it is not surprising that he sought solace in a convention of his own. THE SENTINEL is sorry that there were not more officers to go around up north and indeed it supported some of the gentlemen who identified themselves with the Kendallville convention. It is surprising that any one from Fort Wayne should take part in such proceedings, because no one can ever hope to elect Mr. Stanley. THE SENTINEL has not an unkind word for any of them, for it feels that time will right all things and cause many good democrats to regret the rash step taken yesterday. Judge Lowry will be elected by the people who love the party for its principles and practices. He was nominated by a majority of the people and would be renominated to-morrow if another delegate election occurred. If the promoters of the Kendallville side show called regular elections, gave the people an opportunity to exercise the right to vote, the Kendallville convention would have ratified the nomination of Judge Lowry and no one doubts it.

Avilla correspondent: "P. A. Randall and family, of Fort Wayne, were visiting here last Sunday."

Bluffton Times: "Miss Lillian Tildon, of Fort Wayne, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. Humphrey during the past week, returned home Monday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Humphrey."

Bluffton Chronicle: "Miss Tottie Bulger, of Fort Wayne, is in the city visiting her friends."

HORROR!

Forty Men are Burned to Death.

Dreadful Explosion in a Mine Where One Hundred and Forty People Were at Work.

The Poor Fellows are Shockingly Cremated in the British Coal Pit.

MINE DISASTER.

Forty Men Killed in an Explosion.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from Leigh, Lancashire, states that a terrible explosion occurred this morning in the Wood-end colliery, at that place. One hundred and forty miners were below at the time of the explosion and many of them were shockingly burned. Two corpses have already been rescued.

A later dispatch says that forty miners were killed by the explosion.

A Big Storm.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—A fierce gale last night passed over central and southwestern Illinois, accompanied by heavy rains. Much damage was done by the rushing winds. At Elliott, in Ford county, five cars were blown from the tracks of the Lake Erie road. A passenger train ran into the wreck, but fortunately no one on either train was injured. The rain will greatly benefit the crops.

A tornado swept over Illiopolis, Ill., yesterday, leveling corn and grain. While it was raging, a fire broke out in the center of the town, but by a great effort the citizens succeeded in extinguishing it.

An Oil Tank on Fire.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—At 12:30 to-day a tank at Doan's oil works on Kingsbury run caught fire and exploded with considerable force. Nine steamers are working at the fire, which is thought to be fully under control.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—The fire at Doan's oil refinery, is under control. Three tanks exploded and the still house and boiler room are in ashes. The estimated loss is $35,000.

Dr. Carver's Effects.

New York, Aug. 13.—The personal effects of Dr. Carver, the crack shot of the world, were sold at auction here yesterday. A gold watch, a present from the Prince of Wales, brought $400; the German emperor's present, a diamond ring, was sold for $200.

At Thursday's session of the American Banker's association, Logan O. Murray, of New York, was elected president for the ensuing year.

Chicago Races.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The races are postponed on account of the rain.

Fort Wayne People Abroad.

Pleasant Lake correspondent: "Christian Barnhart, of Fort Wayne, came here on the evening of the day his brother Peter was buried. He did not get the message in time to get here sooner. He is engaged in business in Fort Wayne, but had lost trace of his brother until the message came that he was dying."

Hartford City Telegram: "Colonel J. W. Younger, adjutant general of the Tri-state association of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, is here, and will, with the aid of Col. Cary, of Marion, take charge of and conduct the sham battle."

Plymouth Democrat: "James Butler, of Fort Wayne, was in the city a few hours Tuesday.—Miss Nellie Brown, of Fort Wayne, is here visiting some of our normal friends, the Misses Butler and Low."

The Indianapolis News says: "And if General Manson does not resign, how will it be for high against the McDonald card in nominating Nelson?" said a Fort Wayne who swears by the beard Isaac P. Gray.

TILDEN'S GRAVE.

And His Picturesque Burial Lot.

At New Lebanon, Columbia county, N. Y., the mortal remains of Samuel Jones Tilden were buried, Saturday, Aug. 7. There, in the little country hamlet, his life started, seventy-two years ago. When it had worn out the body and taken its flight to unknown realms, the clay mold it had inhabited was given back to the same kindly earth at New Lebanon.

The portrait in the illustration is from a photograph taken only a few weeks before Mr. Tilden died. For the past ten months he had been gaining in flesh and strength, and there was reason to believe that he had years of life before him yet. There was even talk of nominating him for the presidency in 1888, with or without his consent. Rival candidates will undoubtedly breathe more freely now, old and infirm as the Sage of Greystone was. He was the shrewdest political organizer of his time.

Rumor had the distinguished old man bequeathed to more women than was the luck of any other bachelor of his time, yet he lived and died single. There is not even the record of an early love disappointment, such as invested President Buchanan with romantic interest, to gild Tilden's blunt unvarnished bachelorhood. He appears to have remained single because he liked it best that way. Had he chosen he might have been a bachelor president. There is every reason to believe that he might have died president had he accepted the Democratic nomination in 1884. He could have had it also in 1880. As it was, he was a president maker, and perhaps that was as much consolation to him as having the office for himself. At any rate, it was far less bother. His letter of declination in 1884 gave the nomination to Mr. Cleveland.

Many famous men have "died like a tree at the top first," as Dean Swift said of himself. Mr. Tilden was spared that most sorrowful kind of decay. For some years his body has been practically dead. He was so paralyzed that it is hard to see how he kept in the flesh so long. His vocal chords ceased to act several years ago, and he could only speak in a whisper, so low that the listener had to bend his head close to Mr. Tilden's lips to hear. His left hand was useless; his right hand shook so that if he wished to extend it in greeting to a friend it had to be shot forward with a sudden impulse to make it move at all.

When he walked it was with a slow, shuffling step, painful to be seen. His hearing was the only sense that remained to him perfect. Yet his mind was strong, and crystal clear to the last. He was so helpful that for some years he has had to be fed like a child; yet within a few months he dictated and issued a document so vigorous and statesmanlike that it waked up the whole country. The document was his letter to Senator Hawley on our need of coast defenses and fortifications. It commended itself to members of both political parties.

The Tilden burial plot is of unique and beautiful design. Probably Mr. Tilden himself planned it, for it was the work of no ordinary mind. The plot is in the village cemetery, and is laid out in circular form. In the center are buried the statesman's father and mother. A tall marble burial urn is placed above them. There a circular walk runs around their graves. After that comes a circle of four burial plots, then another circular walk, then another round of grave plots. Four walks radiate from the central graves, where the Tilden ancestors repose, out to the circumference of the whole burial plot. Mr. Tilden is buried in the northwest corner grave of the inner circle. How his grave looks you see from the picture.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE BIER.

The president attended Mr. Tilden's funeral and stood with bowed head beside the coffin of the great master Democrat. Several members of the cabinet also came over from Washington to Greystone to be present.

A striking and pleasing feature of the scene as the body lay in state at Greystone was the absence of heavy black drapery about the revered remains. The catafalque, where the body lay in state in his own room looking out over the Hudson, was covered with snow white hangings. It was beautiful and unique.

TILDEN'S GRAVE.

It is a peaceful country graveyard. The thoughts of the Sage of Greystone turned to that in his old days, rather than to the more pretentious cemeteries nearer New York city. His family were Presbyterians.

Greystone is a beautiful country seat on a Hudson river hill, above the village of Yonkers, nine miles from New York city. Mr. Tilden's city home, at Gramercy park, in New York, was a luxurious and beautiful mansion. It had been originally two houses, which were made over into one. Its choicest treasure is its vast library of 30,000 volumes, which New York city hopes to possess as a legacy from the sage.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FINANCE.
We respectfully report that we have destroyed orders and interest coupons redeemed by the treasurer during the month of June, amounting to $11,363.66, the same having been checked and compared with the clerk's records and treasurer's reports.

D. MONAHAN, Com.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON FIRE.
1. We recommend the contract of B. H. Baker for building a hose wagon.
2. There was only one proposal in for changing our fire alarm system, but since that time the committee has had the matter up to here that gave us the price on their system, which would be $470 less than the Gamewell system, but the committee is satisfied that the Gamewell system is the best system, and that it will be for the interest of the city to have the Gamewell system; and therefore recommend the approval of the contract with the Gamewell company.

Hon. Eli W. Brown was in the city to-day. He is proud of the state ticket and says the people of Whitley county will give it a hearty support.

Mr. E. L. Cothrell, wife, baby and mother, returned last night from a trip down the St. Lawrence. Mr. Cathrell will start for Kansas City to-night.

Postmaster Kaough received his new bond this morning. It is in the sum of $100,000 and the leading capitalists of Fort Wayne will sign it. Mr. Kaough's commission dates from Aug. 2, for four years.

The prizes to the successful companies of the Indiana legion at the Lafayette encampment were paid yesterday by the adjutant general. The total amount of these is $1,700, of which $300 goes to the Fort Wayne rifles and $100 to our veteran soldiers. The encampment was a success financially, all expenses having been paid and a surplus of $500 remaining.

Dr. J. W. Younge had a quarrel with Capt. James Harper at Hartford City. This morning Dr. Younge was arrested for contempt of court and will have a trial before Judge Sinclair to-morrow at 10 o'clock. Judge Sinclair issued an order some time ago restraining the doctor from paying his respects to the reunion people and the doctor did not, it seems, heed the judicial order. It is six of one and half a dozen of another.

Weather indications for Indiana to-day are local rains, slightly warmer.

Mr. Etzold, who was formerly a partner of A. C. Katt, is now a probate judge in Kansas. He was elected a short time ago.

There is a big art loan exhibition at Wabash. Gabriel Godtry, the Miami chief, shows large medals presented to the Indians by Washington, in 1793, and Jackson in 1829; also the crucifix worn by Francis Slocum, the white girl who was taken captive at the massacre of Wyoming.

Dr. J. W. Younge this afternoon instituted a suit for criminal libel against Capt. Scott Swann, of the Tri State Veterans association, for sending out a circular denouncing Dr. Younge as a fraud and jail bird. The doctor denies both allegations, and even if they are true, the libel law declares strongly against the publication of such matter. Justice Ryan will hear the case to-morrow. Henry Colerick, W. S. Oppenheim and J. R. Bittenger appear for the state and Dr. Younge, who promptly gave bail this morning in the contempt case.

Purify your blood, tone up the system and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

WAR!

This Time it is in San Domingo.

A Defeated Candidate for President Attacks His Successful Opponent in Open Battle.

The Cutting Affair Likely to be Settled—Governor Ireland Talks Sensibly.

A REVOLUTION.

San Domingo is the Scene of a Bloody War.

Boston, Aug. 13.—A letter from San Domingo dated July 28, says: "A presidential election took place on the 26th of June, General Ulysses Horreux being elected by a large majority. General Masses, the defeated candidate, left for Samana two days after the election, raised an army of three thousand men, attacked Santiago and was defeated by the government forces. General Horreux, the president-elect, left here today, leading five thousand men to reinforce General Superson at Santiago. General Scaraman will join Horreux, making his army 12,000 men. This is the strongest revolution that has started in San Domingo for years, but will be of short life, as General Horreux is a brave and determined man, and understands the mode of fighting in this country."

THE MEXICAN TROUBLES.

It Will Probably be Settled by Arbitration.

New York, Aug. 13.—A special from Washington says that in yesterday's consideration by the cabinet of Cutting's case, a proposition from the Mexican government was received that if the state department will send to the City of Mexico an able lawyer as a special envoy to confer with the attorney-general of Mexico, as to the proper interpretation of the laws under which Cutting is held, they believe an amicable solution can be arrived at. The cabinet unanimously agreed to accept the proposition. This government is not bound by the report that the representative may make, but upon this report there can be established additional diplomatic procedure. Pending this agreement neither government will take action. The special envoy will not be a person who is in any way connected with the service of the government.

GOVERNOR IRELAND'S LETTER.

The Herald has the following dispatch from Governor Ireland to-day: "You ask for my views in the Cutting case. Cutting has never applied to me. It may be conceded, if necessary, that Cutting has been legally convicted under the Mexican law, but the people and government of the United States can never submit to such rule of law. Every editor and every other person who writes or prints matter in the United States obnoxious to the views of the Mexican courts can at any time when found in Mexico be arrested and punished as Cutting has been. The person of Cutting is not involved and surely our government has not made an idle demand. No one wants war and I trust no one wants peace at the expense of national honor and the rights of an American citizen. Outrages have gone far enough and have been numerous enough."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—It is asserted at the state department that there are no fresh developments in the Cutting case and that the attitude of this government has not changed in any respect.

Folding Paddles for Steamboats.

Pittsburg, Aug. 13.—John Dougherty, of Mt. Union, Pa., has given orders for the plates for building folding paddles, to attach to a light draught steamboat, with which he expects to make the trip from Pittsburg to New Orleans and return in a week.

A Big Estate.

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 13.—Suit was commenced here yesterday to have an accounting made of the assets left by the late Charles Durkee, an ex-governor of Utah. The estate is valued at $500,000, and the petitioners claim the executors converted it to different uses than those stipulated in the will.

Business Failures.

The business failures of the last seven days are, United States, 141; Canada, 16; total, 157.

CHOICE BITS.

The News That is Called for the "Sentinel" Readers.

The republicans of Wells county will present the name of J. J. Todd, as a candidate for lieutenant governor.

The brewery, beer garden and hotel at Maxinkuckee Lake burned last week, but they will be rebuilt on a larger scale.

D. E. Finley, late chief train dispatcher of the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago railroad, was drowned yesterday while bathing in Pel river, at Worthington, Ind.

The first of the state elections to come hereafter will be that of Vermont, on September 7. Maine will follow on September 13. All of the rest of the states will vote on November 2.

From present indications the corn crop in Whitley county this year will prove a great failure, many fields will not yield a bushel to the acre, while but very few will go over half a crop. In some parts of the county there has been no rain of any consequence for two months.

The recently destroyed soldiers' orphan's home at Knightstown will be rebuilt at once. The trustees met, and as the insurance money is in their name it is held no legislative action is needed. The $25,000 of insurance added to the walls already standing will go as far as can be gone until the legislature is in session to make further appropriations.

Between four and five o'clock yesterday morning, during the thunder storm, the house of Jacob Shideler, of Lancaster township, Huntington county, was struck with lightning and quite badly wrecked. The fluid entered the roof, tore off chimneys, and going to the first floor, tore a large hole therein, and then threw the board underpinning around the yard in every direction. None of the family were injured.

Sixty-three of the sixty-six switchmen who inaugurated the strike on the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern railroad at Chicago, last June, were paid a full month's wages last Saturday. Those who had engaged in the strike of April received $70, the others $65. The payment of this money is the fulfillment of a promise made to the men by the switchmen's union of the United States to pay them wages if they would not call out the switchmen of the other Chicago roads. The men are contented, and are still hopeful of winning, and they mean to return to work in a body. Only two of the strikers have applied for work on other roads. They were refused employment. The Lake Shore road is guarded for thirty miles out of the city. No switching is done at night, and the strikers point to this as a proof of their declaration that the road is not handling nearly all of the freight that comes to it.

Ligonier Banner: "Miss Belle Levy returned to her home in Fort Wayne Tuesday, after several days visit with the Looser family."

P. F. Bartlett, assistant commercial agent of the Wabash road, has resigned and Wm. F. Spratt, of Toledo, succeeds him.

Miss Rose Gallagher, of Fort Wayne, and Miss Kate Gallagher, of Terre Haute, are visiting their sister, Miss Emma G., of McGill street, Indianapolis.

Budd V. Sweringen will soon leave our city for Philadelphia where he will place himself for the next nine months under the instruction of the oldest medical college in the country, the University of Pennsylvania. The approaching term will be its 122d. Being an institution endowed by the state, it is perfectly independent, and therefore maintains a higher standard of education and requires a higher grade of qualifications of its alumni than any medical college in America. Mr. Sweringen proposes to take his second and third courses in this university and also a private course in pathological microscopy under the famous pathologist and microscopist, Professor Formad, of Philadelphia, who is connected with the above institution.

A telegram to the Indianapolis Sentinel says of the gentleman nominated at Kendallville yesterday: "Henry C. Stanley, a Noble county farmer, and an ex-member of the legislature, for congress. His age is sixty-eight, and his accessible means are placed at $50,000. Stanley did not attend the convention, but stood about the streets during the proceedings. He accepted the nomination only when it was promised by some of the younger kinkers that they would make the campaign for him if he would only show himself once. The convention was a very tame affair, without much spirit and was sparsely attended."

BOB DUNN.

He is Shot for a Series of Burglaries at St. Joe—His Career in Fort Wayne.

In the past week there have been a series of burglaries at St. Joe, a village north of Fort Wayne, in DeKalb county. Wednesday night the store of Mr. Barney was robbed and a posse took after the robbers. Mr. Boyle, of DeKalb county, came on to one of the thieves and opened fire upon him. The stranger fell mortally wounded and was taken back to St. Joe, where he is this he has probably breathed his last. The man's name is Robert Dunn, and his home is in Fort Wayne. He has worked for Dr. G. T. Barnum, the livery man, and at the street-car barn. His wife died some time ago and in this connection he is remembered. He alleged her death resulted from wine furnished her by H. W. Mordhurst, the druggist, and he sued that gentleman for damages. The jury gave him nothing, and then Dunn went back to his old exploits. He had a Rome City meal ticket on his person and burglar's tools and material. The officers are now after his partner who is believed to be in this neighborhood.

THE I. P. A.

What the Attractions Cost and The Outlook.

The Inland Park Assembly at Rome City, of which Mr. Fred Kell is an officer, made money this summer and the promoters will make a greater effort to please next season.

Already Sam Jones and Sam Small have been engaged for two days. John A. Logan will be engaged for G. A. R. day next year. Henry Ward Beecher will be here if alive, on some day of the next session. Possibly, it will be of interest to the many readers of THE SENTINEL to know who and the prices paid for the talent represented on the platform of I. P. A., during the session just closed. They paid as follows:

Rev. Sam Jones	$200
Maj. Gen. Howard, U. S. A.	140
Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage	130
Chaplain C. O. McCabe	150
Prof. C. C. Case, musical director	300
Rev. A. A. Willets, D. D.	100
Rev. P. S. Henson, D. D.	100
Dean A. A. Wright, teacher	200
Prof. Eugene's brass band	600
Rev. N. B. G. Love, teacher	112
Wallace Bruce	150
Rev. John DeWitt Miller	100
Rev. Chas. F. Doern, D. D.	100
Rev. Washington Hadden, D. D.	100
Peter M. Von Finkelslein	100
Leon H. Vincent	100
Miss Princess Clark, soprano soloist	50
Mrs. Kittie L. Houghton, soprano soloist	50
Mrs. Nichols, president W. O. T. U.	50
and others aggregating for this session's program	$4,000.

The Kendallville Convention.

There were a few clever gentlemen at the Kendallville convention yesterday, but the people had no voice in the affair. The persons prominent were either disappointed or defeated candidates from northern counties. O. L. Ballou was there. He was offered a just representation in the Auburn convention, but did not take it. The state convention rejected him and his followers altogether last Wednesday and it is not surprising that he sought solace in a convention of his own. THE SENTINEL is sorry that there were not more officers to go around up north and indeed it supported some of the gentlemen who identified themselves with the Kendallville convention. It is surprising that any one from Fort Wayne should take part in such proceedings, because no one can ever hope to elect Mr. Stanley. THE SENTINEL has not an unkind word for any of them, for it feels that time will right all things and cause many good democrats to regret the rash step taken yesterday. Judge Lowry will be elected by the people who love the party for its principles and practices. He was nominated by a majority of the people and would be re-nominated to-morrow if another delegate election occurred. If the promoters of the Kendallville side show called regular elections, gave the people an opportunity to exercise the right to vote, the Kendallville convention would have ratified the nomination of Judge Lowry and no one doubts it.

Avilla correspondent: "P. A. Randall and family, of Fort Wayne, were visiting here last Sunday."

Bluffton Times: "Miss Lillian Tilden, of Fort Wayne, who has been the guest of Mrs. J. Humphrey during the past week, returned home Monday. She was accompanied by Mrs. Humphrey."

HORROR!

Forty Men are Burned to Death.

Dreadful Explosion in a Mine Where One Hundred and Forty People Were at Work.

The Poor Fellows are Shockingly Cremated in the British Coal Pit.

MINE DISASTER.

Forty Men Killed in an Explosion.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from Leigh, Lancashire, states that a terrible explosion occurred this morning in the Wood-end colliery, at that place. One hundred and forty miners were below at the time of the explosion and many of them were shockingly burned. Two corpses have already been rescued.

A later dispatch says that forty miners were killed by the explosion.

A Big Storm.

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—A fierce gale last night passed over central and southwestern Illinois, accompanied by heavy rains. Much damage was done by the rushing winds. At Elliott, in Ford county, five cars were blown from the tracks of the Lake Erie road. A passenger train ran into the wreck, but fortunately no one on either train was injured. The rain will greatly benefit the crops.

A tornado swept over Illinois, Ill., yesterday, leveling corn and grain. While it was raging, a fire broke out in the center of the town, but by a great effort the citizens succeeded in extinguishing it.

An Oil Tank on Fire.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—At 12:30 to-day a tank at Dean's oil works on Kingsbury run caught fire and exploded with considerable force. Nine steamers are working at the fire, which is thought to be fully under control.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 13.—The fire at Dean's oil refinery, is under control. Three tanks exploded and the still house and boiler room are in ashes. The estimated loss is $35,000.

Dr. Carver's Effects.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The personal effects of Dr. Carver, the crack shot of the world, were sold at auction here yesterday. A gold watch, a present from the Prince of Wales, brought $400; the German emperor's present, a diamond ring, was sold for $200.

At Thursday's session of the American Banker's association, Logan O. Murray, of New York, was elected president for the ensuing year.

Hartford City Telegram: "Colonel J. W. Young, adjutant general of the Tri-state association of Ohio, Michigan and Indiana, is here, and will, with the aid of Col. Cary, of Marion, take charge of and conduct the sham battle."

Plymouth Democrat: "James Butler, of Fort Wayne, was in the city a few hours Tuesday.—Miss Nellie Brown, of Fort Wayne, is here visiting some of our normal friends, the Misses Butler and Low."

The Indianapolis News says: "And if General Manson does not resign, how will it be for high against the McDonald card in nominating Nelson?" said a Fort Wayne who swears by the beard Isaac P. Dry.

TILDEN'S GRAVE.

And His Picturesque Burial Lot.

At New Lebanon, Columbia county, N. Y., the mortal remains of Samuel Jones Tilden were buried, Saturday, Aug. 7. There, in the little country hamlet, his life started, seventy-two years ago. When it had worn out the body and taken its flight to unknown realms, the clay mold it had inhabited was given back to the same kindly earth at New Lebanon.

The portrait in the illustration is from a photograph taken only a few weeks before Mr. Tilden died. For the past ten months he had been gaining in flesh and strength, and there was reason to believe that he had years of life before him yet. There was even talk of nominating him for the presidency in 1888, with or without his consent. Rival candidates would undoubtedly breathe more freely now, old and infirm as the Sage of Greystone was. He was the shrewdest political organizer of his time.

Burned had the distinguished old man bewitted to move women than was the luck of any other bachelor of his time, yet he lived and died single. There is not even the record of an early love disappointment, such as invested President Buchanan with romantic interest, to gild Tilden's blunt unvarnished bachelorhood. He appears to have remained single because he liked it best that way. Had he chosen he might have been a bachelor president. There is every reason to believe that he might have died president had he accepted the Democratic nomination in 1884. He could have had it also in 1880. As it was, he was a president maker, and perhaps that was as much consolation to him as having the office for himself. At any rate, it was far less bother. His letter of declination in 1884 gave the nomination to Mr. Cleveland.

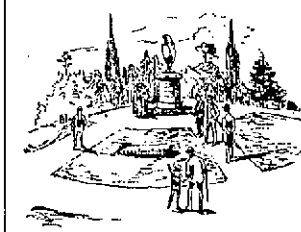

THE PRESIDENT AT THE BIER.

The president attended Mr. Tilden's funeral and stood with bowed head beside the coffin of the great master Democrat. Several members of the cabinet also came over from Washington to Greystone to be present. A striking and pleasing feature of the scene as the body lay in state at Greystone was the absence of heavy black drapery about the revered remains. The catafalque, where the body lay in state in his own room looking out over the Hudson, was covered with snow white hangings. It was beautiful and unique.

Many famous men have "died like a tree at the top first," as Dean Swift said of himself. Mr. Tilden was spared that most sorrowful kind of decay. For some years his body has been practically dead. He was so paralyzed that it is hard to see how he kept in the flesh so long. His vocal chords ceased to act several years ago, and he could only speak in a whisper, so low that the listener had to bend his head close to Mr. Tilden's lips to hear. His left hand was useless; his right hand shook so that if he wished to extend it in greeting to a friend it had to be shot forward with a sudden impulse to make it move at all.

When he walked it was with a slow, shuffling step, painful to be seen. His hearing was the only sense that remained to him perfect. Yet his mind was strong, and crystal clear to the last. He was so helpless that for some years he has had to be fed like a child; yet within a few months he dictated and issued a document so vigorous and statesmanlike that it waked up the whole country. The document was his letter to Senator Hawley on our need of coast defenses and fortifications. It commended itself to members of both political parties.

The Tilden burial plot is of unique and beautiful design. Probably Mr. Tilden himself planned it, for it was the work of an ordinary mind. The plot is in the village cemetery, and is laid out in circular form. In the center are buried the statesman's father and mother. A tall marble burial urn is placed above them. Then a circular walk runs around their graves. After that comes a circle of four burial plots, then another circular walk, then another round of grave plots. Four walks radiate from the central graves, where the Tilden ancestors repose, out to the circumference of the whole burial plot. Mr. Tilden is buried in the northeast corner grave of the inner circle. How his grave looks you see from the picture.

TILDEN'S GRAVE.

It is a peaceful country graveyard. The thoughts of the Sage of Greystone turned to his old days, rather than to the more pretensions common to New York city. His family were Presbyterians.

Greystone is a beautiful country seat on a Hudson river hill, above the village of Yonkers, one mile from New York city. Mr. Tilden's city home, at Gramercy park, in New York, was a luxurious and beautiful mansion. It had been originally two houses, which were made over into one. Its choicest treasure is its vast library of 20,000 volumes, which New York city hopes to possess as a legacy from the sage.

HOMES OF STATESMEN.

HOW OUR PUBLIC MEN LIVE OUTSIDE OF WASHINGTON.

Descriptions of the Country Seats of Senators Sherman, Edmunds, Ingalls, Vance and Others—The Elms, Hominy Hill, Gombroon and Palmer's Log Cabin.

[Special Correspondence.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—Most of the leading statesmen of the country have fine residences away from Washington and there are not a few like Senator Stanford and Congressman Scott who keep up three or four different establishments. Senator Sherman lives at Mansfield, O., and he has a little farm surrounding his residence in the best part of the city. His house is on a hill and its windows overlook miles of the rolling country of central Ohio. It has acres of beautiful lawn and trees and there is an orchard at its back. The house itself is a large rambling brick structure with a Mansard roof, and with steps and finishings of a wonderfully striped sandstone, which comes from Mrs. Sherman's farm near Mansfield. The rooms in Senator Sherman's house are very large and their ceilings are high. A wide hall runs through the center and there are many verandas, the ceilings of which are finished in Georgia pine.

The senator has a large library on the ground floor, and the walls of this, like those in his house at Washington, are lined with books. In Mansfield Senator Sherman is known as plain John Sherman. It is not an uncommon thing to see him out on his place superintending the work upon it himself, and he thinks nothing of driving down town wearing a slouch hat and a suit of clothes not remarkable for their newness. He has many friends visiting him, and his house is generally full of company during the summer season. Both himself and his wife are fond of having young people about them, and though Mrs. Sherman is an accomplished society woman she is very domestic in her tastes. She prides herself on her Jersey cows, and it was not long ago that she sent some of her butter to a country fair. In order that the award might be made without regard to the sender she put no name on the exhibit, and the judges found the butter so yellow and so sweet that they thought it must be colored artificially. "I gave the premium on this ground to a roll which was the color of skimmed milk cheese, and were greatly surprised when Mrs. Sherman afterward sent them a piece of her yellow butter with her compliments."

Senator Edmunds lives at Burlington, Vermont, and his house there is a plain old-fashioned brick of medium size, situated on the slope of the hill on which Burlington is built. It has three or four acres of ground about it, which are laid out in lawn and park, and his windows command a beautiful view of Lake Champlain and the Adirondack mountains. There is nothing showy about the place, and the house is as plain and reserved as Senator Edmunds himself. Edmunds lives here in a democratic manner. He does not drive about in livery, nor does he give extravagant receptions. "You may often see him, with his wife, by his side, going over the country, driving his horses himself, and his habits are severely plain."

Senator Wilson lives in the little town of Fairfield, Iowa. His home is on the edge of the town, and it consists of a two-story frame house, with fifty-five acres of lawn and meadow. The house is a very comfortable one. It has a wide hall running through its center, and at the right is the library and parlor. Near the house stands a waterpipe raised fifty feet into the air, which supplies the house with water and which is filled by the windmill. Senator Wilson has all the modern conveniences, though he is practically in the country, for the town of Fairfield is less than 4,000 in size. For a time he made his own gas, but he now gets this from the city. There is a beautiful fountain in his yard, and he raises everything upon his place that the advanced farmer pretends to raise. He has his own fish pond, and he raises his own pork and chickens. He keeps Jersey cows, and he takes as much interest in the town of Fairfield as though he owned it.

Judge W. D. Kelley has an old homestead in Philadelphia which he calls "The Elms." He built it for himself thirty-three years ago, and it has been but little changed since then. It is a stone house covered with whitestucco. It is about forty feet wide by forty-three feet deep, and it has a large hall running through the center. There is a bay window at the side, and the interior has one of the best politico-economical libraries in the country. The library is on the ground floor, and there is a large desk in its center which is littered with the letters, pamphlets and books of a hard working literary man and statesman. Though Kelley is well up in the seventies he still works as hard as when he began congressional life during Lincoln's presidency. He keeps up magazine and book writing at the same time, and he turns out about as much copy for The Congressional Record and the editors as any man in congress. Judge Kelley's father was a jeweler, and the judge himself began life at 13 in a watch shop. Here in his library between two of the windows stands one of those old-fashioned clocks, with a high colored, chubby face looking down on the dial. This clock was made by Judge Kelley's father, and the judge bought it after time from the widow of the man to whom his father sold it. A large lawn surrounds this house, and this is full of fine old forest trees, the most of which the judge has seen grow up himself, and some of which he has planted in connection with his friends.

Sam Randall lives at Berwyn, in an old stone farmhouse, which he has rented for years. The house is surrounded by trees, and it is perhaps 100 years old. Randall's farm comprises eighty acres of land, and it is not an uncommon sight to see him with his coat off, working about it during the summer. The country in which it is located is rolling, and Randall's neighbors are thrifty farmers who have small and well cultivated farms. Mr. Randall's chief associates during the summer are with his neighbors, though many a delegation of office seekers comes out to see him. They are driven from the station to the Randall house, and the hack drivers charge $1.50 for the round trip. Sam Randall is not wealthy, but his tastes are of the simplest, and he is satisfied with about $15,000, the amount of his accumulated savings, and a reputation for integrity which has never been questioned.

Senator Vance's country home is known as "Gombroon," after one of the opium dreams of De Quincey. It consists of a splendid estate of forest of 1,000 acres, on the edge of the Blue Ridge mountains. It is on one of the highest points east of the Mississippi, and it is near the head of the Swannanoah river. Here Senator Vance now lives during the hot summers, in a log cabin of three or four rooms, though he is building a fine country home near by. He is a lover of nature, and though he has a very pleasant home at Washington, he gets tired of the flat streets and the regular lines of trees long before the end of each congressional session, and says he is anxious to get to North Carolina, where he can lie upon the grass in his shirt sleeves and see the industrious negro ploughing with a one-eyed mule. He does not like the full dress parade of the fashionable watering place, and for perfect, restful enjoyment he thinks no place is better than the mountain and the forest. This home of Senator Vance is also a good investment. The land has enough cherry on it to pay for it, and it has, besides, walnut and other hard woods. After it is cleared it makes splendid farming lands, and Senator Vance is rapidly cutting down a portion of the trees and setting the ground to bearing crops.

Senator Payne's home is on Euclid avenue, Cleveland, and it is a part of the old farm that Payne's father-in-law left when he died. The old Payne homestead, in which the senator lived for years, is a low, ridged roof building covered with vines, and this is now occupied by Mrs. Whitney's millionaire brother, Oliver. Senator Payne's house is a magnificent stone mansion elegantly furnished, and surrounded by land so valuable that you would need to have greenbacks enough to carpet it before you could purchase it. Senator Payne can afford it, however, for he is worth from $3,000,000 to $4,000,000. His daughter is married to a rich man and his only son living has a pile three or four times as big as his own.

Senator Ingalls lives at Atchison, Kan., and I can tell that his present house is the one he moved into when he married. It was originally a story and a half residence, and Senator Ingalls has added to it from year to year till it now covers quite an area. It is situated in beautiful grounds upon a bluff overlooking Atchison and the river, and its interior is very comfortably and well furnished. It has a fine library, and is full of children from little golden-haired girls of 3 and 5 up to Ingalls' eldest son, who has just graduated from college. Mrs. Ingalls, the senator's wife, who is noted as one of the beautiful and accomplished women in senatorial circles, presides over it, and it is as pleasant a home as you will find anywhere. Not far from Atchison there is a park of several acres which belongs to Senator Ingalls, and upon which, I understand, he intends to build some day.

Hominy Hill is the euphonious title of Garland's country seat, and though I have never seen it I am told it is a log cabin, away off in the woods near Little Rock, Ark. When Garland goes there he never allows himself to be bothered with mail or business, and he gave orders that his letters were not to be forwarded to him when he left for his six weeks' vacation last summer. The cabin itself is a double log one, and its interior and surroundings are those of the forest primeval. He often has some of his friends come and see him while he is thus camping out, and the entertainment he gives them is shooting, fishing and the good stories for which he is famous.

Senator Gorman has a farm in Maryland not far from Washington. He keeps fine stock, and does not need to travel 100 miles to get to the capital or any part of his district.

Governor Curtin lives at Delfont, the little town in which he was born. He has a fine library, and his house contains many curios, which he has picked up during his life of foreign and American travel. He has, among other things, large and elegant portraits of the late czar of Russia and of Prince Gortschakoff. When Curtin left Russia the emperor was very anxious to have him stay, but upon his saying that he was determined to go, he told Governor Curtin that he would like to give him a testimonial of his friendship. Governor Curtin replied that the laws of America prevented his foreign ministers from receiving gifts from rulers. The emperor then said that he had a portrait of himself painted by Lombardi which he had intended for his empress. "But," continued he, "I want to give it to you so that you may keep it in your family." Upon Governor Curtin telling him that if he gave it in his official capacity as minister it would have to go to the state department, he replied that he would wait until he got home and then send it to him with a letter, saying that it was for him. He did this and there is no piece of property in Curtin's possession which he prizes more highly than this.

Secretary Endicott lives in Washington in Minister Poulletou's house. In Salem he occupies the Endicott mansion, on Essex street, opposite Monroe.

Senator Evans has a country home at Windsor, Vt., and I have heard that his association with that state has come through his marriage with Miss Wardner, a Vermont lady. He has a large number of children, and they tell a story how one of these, on hearing Mr. Evans' favorite donkey bray delightedly said: "Poor thing! But, nurse, I am so glad that papa will be here Saturday, and he helped fell the trees and lay the logs which made it. There is a lake in front of it full of carp, and he delights in the fact that the Indian Chief Pontiac used to roam about in the woods which he now owns."

FRANK GEORGE CARPENTER.

Mrs. Senator Dolph.

It seems to be just dawning on the mind of society that the wife of Senator Joseph N. Dolph, of Oregon, is one of the most beautiful women in Washington. Almost any man who is a millionaire can be a United States senator in these days, but not every senator has a beautiful wife. In the absence of other claims to distinction, this is one not to be despised.

Mrs. Dolph is a native of the Pacific coast, and is a good specimen of what it can do in the line of fair women. Mr. Dolph is a lawyer, like all the rest of the United States senators. He was district attorney for Portland when the lady married him. If professional beauties are to be the fashion in this country, she will be one of the first.

They have six children, said to be very beautiful—all of them. The eldest is a daughter, who made her debut into society at a brilliant ball last winter. Mother and daughter are now traveling in Europe.

This distinguished lady has a kindness and sweetness of nature which are better even than her beauty. She and her husband keep up a handsome establishment, noted for its hospitality. She presides at dinner and other parties with tact and grace. She is witty and entertaining in conversation. She has host of friends who are drawn to her by her kindness and good nature.

Postmaster Kaough received his new bond this morning. It is in the sum of $100,000 and the leading capitalists of Fort Wayne will sign it. Mr. Kaough's commission dates from Aug. 2, for four years.

The prizes to the successful companies of the Indiana legion at the Lafayette encampment were paid yesterday by the adjutant general. The total amount of these is $1,700, of which $300 goes to the Fort Wayne rifles and $100 to our veteran soldiers. The encampment was a success financially, all expenses having been paid and a surplus of $500 remaining.

Dr. J. W. Younge had a quarrel with Capt. James Harper at Hartford City. This morning Dr. Younge was arrested for contempt of court and will have a trial before Judge Sinclair to-morrow at 10 o'clock. Judge Sinclair issued an order some time ago restraining the doctor from paying his respects to the reunion people and the doctor did not, it seems, heed the judicial order. It is six of one and half a dozen of another.

Weather indications for Indiana to-day are local rains, slightly warmer.

Mr. Etzold, who was formerly a partner of A. C. Katt, is now a probate judge in Kansas. He was elected a short time ago.

There is a big art loan exhibition at Wabash. Gabriel Godfrey, the Miami chief, shows large medals presented to the Indians by Washington, in 1793, and Jackson in 1823; also the crucifix worn by Francis Slocum, the white girl who was taken captive at the massacre of Wyoming.

Dr. J. W. Younge this afternoon instituted a suit for criminal libel against Capt. Scott Swann, of the Tri State Veterans association, for sending out a circular denouncing Dr. Younge as a fraud and jail bird. The doctor denies both allegations, and even if they are true, the libel law declares strongly against the publication of such matter. Justice Ryan will hear the case to-morrow. Henry Colerick, W. S. Oppenheim and J. R. Dittenger appear for the state and Dr. Younge, who promptly gave bail this morning in the contempt case.

Purify your blood, tone up the system and regulate the digestive organs by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.
